ADVANCING THE TREATMENT OF GENITOURINARY CANCERS

INTENDED AUDIENCE

This educational activity is intended for urologists and other health care professionals interested in the management and treatment of bladder cancer, high-risk prostate cancer, cancer ablation and the changing healthcare landscape in urology.

OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this activity, participants will be able to:

- Recognize bladder cancer variants and improving the management of bladder cancer
- Explain approaches to high risk prostate cancer
- Discuss trends in the changing health landscape in urology

PRACTICE GAPS AND ASSESSMENT OF NEED

The content of this educational activity was selected to match identified gaps between current practices and best practices. The overall objective of this activity is to discuss these practice gaps and provide participants with the knowledge, skills, tools, and resources needed to change their professional practice and improve the care of their patients.

ELEMENTS OF COMPETENCE

This CE activity has been designed to change learner competence and focuses on the American Board of Medical Specialties areas of medical knowledge and patient care and procedural skills.

Dr. David T. Uehling was born and raised outside of Chicago. He completed his urology training at Northwestern and a fellowship at Chicago Children's Memorial Hospital. In 1965, he joined the staff at the University of Wisconsin. Clinically, Dr. Uehling developed a statewide practice in pediatric urology and served the children of Wisconsin for 40 years. From a research perspective, Dr. Uehling distinguished himself with continuous NIH funding in the treatment of urinary tract infections.

Dr. Uehling assumed the chair of the urology division at the UW in 1983 and grew the program into one of national standing. Since stepping down as chairman in 2001, Dr. Uehling has continued to serve the Department of Urology as an Emeritus Professor. He has impacted the lives of many patients, urologists, and scientists throughout the world. This meeting was established in his honor as a way to emphasize his great accomplishments.
